Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, February 18, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

My son is doing better, he is recharged psychologically and is coming to terms with his grief.

He must learn how to carry on differently as a human being. The loss of a loved one leaves a void, as you well know. Even a highly elevated spiritual Master must pass through such a step.

M must not lose heart. Let the storm pass; these civil servants will eventually lose their grip. They are paid to do this work, have a little more patience.

Continue to rest, for the moment; there is nothing else to do. Eliminate everything that is not essential in your activities. You won't get any scoop today. This contact only shows you that the channel is always open and that we don't forget you.

The sum of collected messages represents a gold mine for hearts ready to receive them. You have done a good job, my dear daughter.
