Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, February 23, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

My son is pondering it; this possibility of communication through you makes him think. M is an element that can tip the balance. He is closer to him by his ethnic culture where the voice of the heart expresses itself more easily, without being accused of mawkishness, and this would help you overcome your respective modesties.

We have to let him get used to this idea, and you need to be in better health to take on this situation.

It's a resource that is offered to him, let him decide.

Don't worry about M, he's not in a dramatic situation for the time being.

Trust in divine providence. This boy's path is all set, with all the ups and downs that life can entail.

As for you, my dear daughter, your heart becomes a 'habitable' place! It's up to you to draw the necessary conclusions.
