Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 26, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

My son is reflecting more deeply. In appearance, there are a certain number of obstacles to our project, but they can be removed with good organization. On this point we trust our intermediary translator, whose sincerity the Master appreciates.

It is normal that this means of communication with us through your channel leaves him perplexed. The objections come from his human person. Let him think and get accustomed to this idea. He will come to it by himself in a difficult and seemingly inextricable situation.

He needs to get used to the picture of our favourite messenger. We don't choose easiness for him, but so it is. He is in Madras and you in Montpellier; whatever the remoteness, that sort of distance does not matter for us.

Rest my child.
