Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 27, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

It is good, my child, to offer him your heart. A new relationship, from Master to disciple, should be possible to build.

Open the floodgates at last, let the omnipotence of love finally show itself between you. This is what we've been waiting for, for a long time. You are both giving us a hard time. Nothing is simple with both of you.

But we are confident, we are moving forward and the result will be at the end of this road.

We won't insist any further today so as not to put you under strain; you have enough to think about.

Be blessed, my dear daughter.
