Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, March 4, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

That is not possible and it doesn't line up with your karma. Such cases are very rare; we know you have been dreaming of it for a long time, but it's better not to count on it. Your path is different, and it's not without interest, believe me.

In this matter you see only the convenience of it in relation to dependence on others.

Your life is like that; don't regret anything. It is not ordinary and can even be envied in terms of your gifts.

Be in acceptance, my child, you know well that therein lies the secret of a spiritual life that is well understood.

Babuji

[With this message, Babuji responds to a request from the medium who wished to be granted the faculty of no longer needing to eat in order to live.]