Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 13, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

Asking forgiveness of humanity for crimes committed is good, but an in-depth reform would be necessary. The state of mind is still the same; the latest declarations of this high-ranking person prove it. It is still a very powerful force in some parts of the world. In order to reign, it is necessary to create a kind of psychological terror, with a whole gamut of sins, prohibitions and, as an extension, purgatory or hell to settle the matter. Fortunately, minds are opening, and many Christians understand the shortcomings of this system. Turn the page for good on all the past that has left such deep scars on you, and look towards the luminous future that awaits you.
