Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 20, 2000 – 8:30 a.m.

The power of the spirit is developing in you. It brings about the transformations that are required. Be totally willing and support that action. Your soul has been calling for it for a long time; it rediscovers a familiar environment, a kind of climate that it was desperately lacking. Exile will be less painful. A blessed soul, hidden from the face of the world like a jewel in its earthy dross, once again finds its true life, its homeland.

Whatever the time you have yet to spend on Earth, the bonds uniting us are unfailing and permanent. Your heart vibrates in the divine light that bathes our world. Be patient, my dear daughter, regarding our response to your wish to serve – you are at the right place. Consider yourself to be on a mission far from your country but united with it, no matter what happens.

Babuji