Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, March 22, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

Don't despair, nature has unsuspected resources. In the past, some of your health issues found solutions just when you no longer believed in them. Your life has been a long fight in that regard, developing patience, endurance and courage in you. Your great luck is that you have faith; it is a priceless grace that has given meaning to this painful path.
