Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 24, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Immerse yourself in the 'divine presence'; that way, we will communicate from heart to heart. In these blessed moments, let yours vibrate in the same rhythm as mine, united in the love that binds us. My dear child, it's a pleasure to see you growing, we are all delighted by that. Your François came forward yesterday to tell you how happy your dear ones are with your progress. There is no greater joy for us than to see a soul rise. Although you are in humility about your spiritual state, it is enviable, you cannot deny it. Your heart distils love, naturally, without even realizing it. It has found its vocation – is it not the most beautiful one? Distribute these precious pearls without counting; they constitute the inexhaustible legacy of our divine Creator. Be blessed for wanting to serve Him with the means at your disposal, now and forever.

Babuji