The Medium: O Master, it feels good to finally be able to let one's heart express itself freely.

Our love is very old and profound. We had to surmount many an obstacle and refine ourselves spiritually for it to become pure as crystal.

To get rid of all this dross, our path has been long and painful.

We are happy to see you progressing and advancing step by step towards a luminous world where the Beloved is awaiting us, each at our respective time. He has done wonders for you, who is dear to him. He follows you with such tenderness!

Your soul has suffered greatly and it has been yearning for a long time to regain the Eden where are its loves of yesteryear. Let us continue on our way; and love me, you know that makes Him happy.
