Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, June 17, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

It is true that I feel a particular tenderness for you, which makes me more understanding towards you than the Masters you allude to, whose contacts with you are stricter. Don't dwell over this aspect of things; they too appreciate you. When they were incarnate, they were not always easy to approach. Everyone has their own way of being, which changes nothing in terms of their spiritual greatness. Your present Master does not easily let people approach him. For him it is to protect himself. He cannot communicate with each one of you; the purpose of his mission does not lie in this kind of contact. He is a special being who carries out an enormous work. He must preserve himself and save his energies to accomplish what he came for, by extending his action to the multitude, from which each one of you benefits. Be assured that you each receive according to your aspiration and the openness of your heart. We are amazed at the power of his work. He satisfies us beyond our expectations. Our trust was well placed from the start; he proves it to us time and again. Love him; he returns it well to you.
