Wednesday, April 19, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Try to imagine what the holy alliance of these great souls in the service of the Almighty can be.

Think of the work that is being done not only for humanity, but also on the universal level.

It is a beautiful example of communion between these beings, beyond fraternity – this word not being appropriate for the reality of this sacred union. It represents a great force, a powerful egregore where each one plays their part and sticks to it without fail.

We will not insist; take rest and remain in remembrance of your Beloved. He will come as he has said.

The Venerable