Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, June 22, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

It is your state of health that has compelled us to suspend our daily contacts. Yet the work has not stopped. We maintain a connection, a kind of thread connects us to one another. Our activity continues by itself. There are no more obstacles between us, which allows a satisfactory action. Continue on your way in a state of surrender. All is well, believe me. We use your capabilities when necessary; 'the tool' is operational. You have taken a great step that allows a true collaboration. You have been prepared for your current and future mission. Though we no longer exchange every day, the line of communication is open. Relying on faith and love, you do your best; these two driving forces compensate advantageously for the physical strength you lack. Let us continue together what has begun so well.
