Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, June 29, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Think that your life is a wonderful garden and that you can, at your leisure, observe the infinite variety of forms, colours and scents. Evolving in this environment, a masterpiece of nature, must bring you great joy, since admiring creation has always aroused in you waves of gratitude and love for the One who is All.

In this imaginary enclosure, you can give free rein to the redeeming wave that invades you, and become one with the divine source.

My dear daughter, do not sink into melancholy, as you are doing in this moment. Try to chase away this sadness which assails you; it is out of place.

See the good side of things, you are not abandoned to your sad fate as you believe. Even if you were more surrounded, you would go through these nostalgic moments of a more active and more cheerful past.

Explore other ways, other riches; we lead you on a path that you do not know, but which, sooner or later, will delight your heart.

Babuji