Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, July 15, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Don't be anxious about the future of our relationship. You will not be asked anything you can't do. We don't drain you of energy as this doctor says; rather, the opposite is happening.

Don't let yourself be dragged into other contacts to please your circle, save yourself solely for ours.

Your health problems are not easy to manage; this confinement does not foster an improvement of your state. We give you what is needed to make these exchanges possible, which result in these written messages.

This role should make you happy; it's not ordinary, few humans have this real faculty. Rejoice to be this point of light that enables us to express ourselves and thus give evidence of another existence beyond this Earthly life to people open-minded enough to understand it.

Our worlds are very close, vibrationally, they touch each other, and none of you perceive it. We are not leaving you in the way you tend to believe, and we guide you all as much as possible.
