Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, July 16, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Pure hearts will see the beauty of these messages. They will feel it within themselves. They won't be able to doubt their authenticity and they won't dwell on the literary form.

We have already expressed ourselves on this aspect; it is precisely their simplicity that will touch the sensitive souls. Each one receives what they need. It's their deepest aspiration that attracts to them the spiritual nourishment suited to them.

Yes, this world is vibration; we've never addressed this aspect.

People should also admit to this reality, which is the foundation of all creation. This comprehension would allow humans to better situate themselves and realize that they are but a miniscule piece of the 'Great Whole'.

The universe is a vibratory mass in motion. The human being is one speck of the dust of an atom, vibrating in space; this is something to ponder.

In the future, humans will have to reconsider their conception of the universe.
