Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, August 3, 2000 – 9:00 a.m.

Don't be worried about M and J; let time do its work. They are not wasting theirs currently. This country, with the terrible misery in which part of the population finds itself, is intolerable to observe. They will not fail to draw conclusions from that. They had to go through this experience to get an approximate idea of the situation.

It is not simple; only time, there too, will be able to mitigate these differences. People of goodwill shall have to negotiate intelligently to avoid a blood bath.

A great deal of diplomacy will be necessary. Anger is thundering justifiably. Our brothers of this part of the world are forgotten and abandoned to their tragic fate, without any other option but revolt. There will always be dominating and dominated people, but in future times such a disproportion will have to be abolished.

Evolution on Earth takes place at its own pace. Mentalities are not easy to change. The Earth's karma is being settled imperceptibly.

You, our aspirants, please do behave like wise people and set an example of true fraternity.

Pray so that the yelling injustices caused by the insatiable needs of a few are mitigated.
