Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, March 4, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Let your joy remain in spite of everything! The treasure is within you, nothing and no one can take it away from you.

You can sing love in any key, this chant never ceases to delight us. Human love is our comfort. Bringing you all to that state makes us happy. When all incarnate beings are bathed in that harmonious vibration, we will have achieved our goal.

We too have our dreams, which are not utopian. We are working towards that sublime realization. It is not for tomorrow, but time doesn't matter. This kind of love cannot be measured, it must be lived; it's a divine gift.
