Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, August 26, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Do you realize that with each of your reactions of doubt, you introduce a negative element into the process of communication, a little like weeds in a garden that spoil the harmony of the place?

When will you stop reacting like this? You are blocking the transmission. It is a lack of self-confidence and, more seriously, in doing so, it is us you are doubting. We are dismayed by this situation, which must absolutely stop. You will do us the greatest favour by remedying the situation definitively; if not, you risk jeopardizing this relationship between us and above all with my son, which would be troublesome. When you communicate with the divine being of your Master, you must take very seriously what you perceive, as you do with us. You can also do it consciously by telepathy; that should help you. It is a further step to be taken, that is if you really wish to and are prepared to apply yourselves to it. Knowledge of the English language is irrelevant in this process. You can receive him perfectly. You must advance in this direction, as you don't speak the same language. Use your gifts, think about it.

It is very important.
