Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, September 16, 2000 – 10:30 a.m.

Why not follow this medical opinion? Considering the situation you are in, it is an experiment worth trying; this painkiller does not seem devastating.

Your nervous system, in addition to the rest, is tired by so many trials and sufferings.

One will never know how much of yourself you are giving in these contacts, and the energy required of you in taking these messages. Your fellow human beings see only the good side of things, they cannot even imagine the reality and the disorders it causes in the physical body. For you, my dear child, only service matters. We like this generosity and your way of advancing against all odds.

This anthology is taking shape thanks to your perseverance and your courage.

The hierarchy is watching and they appreciate.

You offer your gifts to our service and the result is satisfactory.

These collections have taken shape; one day, they will be at the disposal of those who will want to read them and especially those who will know how to read them.

At that stage, we will not be able to do anything else; only the goodwill of each one will matter.
