Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, September 20, 2000 – 10:30 a.m.

(For R and N)

Appreciate this encounter for what it is worth. You are getting through your trials with considerable protections. The purpose of life is not the pursuit of pleasure and the satisfaction of all your desires. The true purpose is noble, far from material possessions and the satisfaction of one's ego.

During this period, when you have to face up to sickness, remember that the Earth is not your abode.

You are passing by here below, and it is never too late to become aware of the reality of an incarnation and its usefulness for your evolution.

Open your heart to the true joys, those of being surrounded by dear ones, without neglecting the aspirations of your soul.

Think that it will carry on its way once your Earthly journey is over. Make sure it takes its letters of nobility; you will be acting for the most beautiful cause of all, and you will not regret it.

Be blessed for appreciating and loving our daughter.
