Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, September 22, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Our core preoccupation is with my son; the Mission is expanding in the world, and his responsibilities are increasing accordingly. If on the material level that poses a problem, spiritually it is a success. Seeing what he came to Earth for taking shape and thriving gives great joy, and knowing that we appreciate what he is achieving is another.

There remains an enormous work to be carried out at the human level. Nothing is simple in this area. Where there are two individuals, difficulties begin, what to say about the totality of abhyasis in the world? It is in the nature of things; that's how human beings are made.

Their complicated nature must manifest itself so that they become aware of certain reactions that they do not control well.

The purpose of our work is to help them to rebuild themselves according to other criteria. As they grow in knowledge, their personalities are purified, and the results become visible, even if, at the end of their lives, they still have a battle to fight, from which sooner or later they must come out victorious.

We see to it. May the breath of the spirit spread throughout the world and regenerate it.
