Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, September 29, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

None of you can imagine the impact Sahaj Marg will have in future centuries. You all are the pioneers of a system that will fully meet the needs of generations to come. Many beings who are lovers of the Absolute will seek a spiritual practice ideal in their eyes and outside of religion.

Far from rituals and outdated dogmas, this way will correspond with the deep aspiration of those who are called. Simple and pared down, it will perfectly suit the mentalities that will evolve and free themselves from erroneous principles.

The most determined among you all, fervent practitioners of our teachings, are preparing the ground for this future apotheosis.

Your assiduity is building a strong edifice. The benefits of this path can be felt in many countries of the world where it will establish itself firmly.

Like a river quenching the thirst of seeking souls, it will keep running and growing bigger, amplified by an ever-increasing call.
