Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, October 21, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Once this series is completed, we will, according to the circumstances, give our point of view on this or that event, or any questions they might raise in you. This series will constitute the basis of a memoir called 'Reflections'. It will enable us to remain in contact with our medium and allow those who so wish to benefit. With time, these contacts will be more particularly a testimony to our love for her, as well as those who appreciate them.

On both sides, it is not easy to interrupt this 'heart to heart'. It has created very strong bonds and maintained a flame that is nowhere near dying out. This relationship between Master and disciple has no end. Don't be sad, my dear daughter, we know what these contacts represent for you. They are the manifestation of that which binds us. Fear not, this profound bond has nothing to do with the precariousness of human relations.

It has outlived successive lives and, although we did not meet physically in this one, has led us to this particular relationship.

We will continue to advance in this way of love that is its driving force.

It is the most beautiful thing left when all the dross has disappeared.

Babuji