Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, October 23, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

Refrain from judging your brother; by doing so, it is you yourselves that you are judging.

By placing yourselves above him, you are giving yourselves credit for things that exist only in your head. Are you perfect? What are you doing in your lives that is so glorious?

If you could all see yourselves in the mirror of time, you would see that you are not of a higher essence.

You have your own faults that you do not recognize as you should. So please, with respect to other people's shortcomings, be humble and try to understand and help instead of judging.

It is always timely to take a hard look at yourselves and remedy what is not correct. You will then regard your fellows with compassion and react differently, if your own behaviour has changed.

We are returning to this topic once again, it is essential. You need to get rid of these burdens that delay your progress.

Whatever obstructs the path must be removed. You will advance lighter and happier towards the light that is at the end of the road.
