Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 1, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Do the previous words leave you serene? Prepare yourself, in the depths of your being, to continue the progress by speeding things up.

You must prepare for it with meticulous care; you know exactly what must be done. It's up to you to act accordingly. A retreat would be welcome.

Be in tune with the inner Master as much as possible. Listen to Him in inner peace and adoration; only He can be adored. He is the centre of the universe, the point that connects the human being, the creature, to his Creator.

This approach takes place in silence, confidence and surrender. These virtues are one's guardian angels, among which love is the major one, the most powerful guiding element that opens doors.

All this you all know, we have said it again and again, but for the occasion it is good to remind you that love represents a unique force that can carry you beyond your expectations.

Relentlessly cultivate the spread of its action within yourselves and you will see the result.
