Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 30, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Human beings are only passing through on this Earth. Medicine, on the other hand, makes progress according to the evolution of the times and the prevailing comprehension.

In the future, highly complex devices will be used to assess, with accuracy, the vibration of the various parts of the body and restore their respective equilibrium, if need be. A medical treatment will support this diagnosis and health will be restored without difficulty.

The ageing of the body and birth abnormalities have another cause, in the health field. The karmic laws must inevitably manifest themselves as determined by precise rules.

Humans no longer live in a natural, healthy environment, and this leads to so-called diseases of civilization.

There would be many things to say on these subjects, but they don't fall under our teaching.

People must move forward. Whatever their living conditions, they are a means for them to take advantage of, for their own evolution.
