Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, December 2, 2000 – 10:30 a.m.

Humans will increasingly suffer from such disorders, accentuated by the imbalance of ambient vibratory fields.

Minds will have to open up to this reality and work in their own sphere, so that this aspect of things is no longer ignored.

Humans are plagued by unexplained ailments and this phenomenon will increase in the future.

After a lot of research and misinterpretation, a real solution will be found to these problems which are currently poorly understood by science.
