Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 6, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Thank our intermediaries, they are invaluable. They do this work with so much ardour and sincerity, we appreciate it. Convey our blessings to them.

We aren't going to burden you further today. You must be operational for matters of another order. Everything must be done, for the time being you cannot escape it.

We help you as much as possible.

Be blessed, my child.
