Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, December 10, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Save yourself this sadness. As beautiful as the meditation hall in Augerans may be, they are only walls. Its soul is elsewhere – all of you can find it wherever you like, when yours is present.

What we have deposited there will be found again in other places, since human foolishness forces us to do so. Events of this kind will not mark the history of Sahaj Marg. See yourselves advancing on a luminous path, free of obstacles, following a guide of great wisdom, often overwhelmed himself by problems he would rather do without. That would be too easy. Being the chosen guide of a path that will leave its mark in history is no easy task. Only the approbation of his Masters can truly support him. Who, among humans, understands him? He arouses human love without his true personality being grasped. Matters on Earth are not easy to deal with, only grace can overcome difficulties that seem insurmountable. See only the goal to be attained and not the thorns that lie here and there on the road. Face up to yourselves, to this challenge of making a success of your lives at all levels, of which the culmination is a perfect and complete encounter with the Ultimate.

Babuji