Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 13, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

To have no illusions about oneself is the beginning of wisdom, so continue in this way.

Humans always tend to believe themselves superior to their neighbour, they comfort themselves with this reassuring idea. Could they bear to see themselves in their strictest truth? That is unlikely. Realization occurs by stages, it goes hand in hand with one's spiritual evolution. It is not easy for anyone to recognize their errors and do everything to correct themselves.

Everything in its own time; transformation takes place slowly. Wanting to become better and offering oneself to the Divinity is the best means of progressing. All hopes are permitted for the loving creature who aspires to perfection.

Don't let our speech frighten you all. We do not ask you to make efforts disproportionate to what you are capable of. If we draw your attention to this aspect of your journey it's merely to generate an awareness in you that helps you see more clearly.

That is our only goal: to facilitate your ascent and to manifest our love for you devoid of any judgement or desire to create guilt feelings in you. That is not our objective.
