Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 20, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

Life is a field of experiences; each moment gives you all the opportunity to surpass yourselves. Meetings, challenges, joys and various emotions mark out the days. There is the unexpected, the unhoped-for, and the invariably repeated acts.

Spiritual practice punctuates your days, transforming them by giving colour and opening a window onto the unknown.

You scan the sky and see stars twinkling in the firmament. They make you dream of other worlds, which you would like to visit. These thousands of stars shine in your heart, all of them carrying a different life that opens on to infinity. It is enough for you to follow the most accessible way, so that unknown prospects open up for you and fill you with joy. This way out is within your reach, it's a matter of making a wise choice.

We speak in metaphors to encourage you to follow this treasure hunt.

It is up to each of you to make the effort, but be assured that you will get to where you need to go.

You cannot get lost, since you have a Master and a simple and effective method.

We watch over your journey, letting you advance through the twists and turns of a faith that carries the greatest hopes.

Babuji