Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 20, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

Every day, we put different rhythms into these messages. To catch your attention, as men and women caught in the turbulences of modern life, we vary the tonalities by tackling various topics, albeit all geared towards the same perspectives.

We need to find a way into your hearts, so that you give us your time. Are your hearts ready to listen? Can they set aside their preconceived ideas and fully pay attention to us? It is up to you all to decide on that.

We use this means to reach you in another way.

It may surprise you, but why would we neglect this opportunity to manifest ourselves through a medium?

If you accept the principle, a special teaching is then at your disposal. It echoes teachings emanating from a living Master as well as the many books in our bibliography.

We can, in this way, make a slightly different voice heard. May it touch you all deep inside.

Babuji