Friday, December 29, 2000 – 8:00 a.m.

Nuclear power will ruin the world. This ill-mastered power is demonic. Humans will one day be overwhelmed by its power. It will be the origin of upheavals that will transform the world. It has much broader implications than you can imagine, and these contribute to destabilizing the equilibrium of this planet. In this matter also, human beings are playing with fire, without fully realizing the detrimental consequences for humanity.

A natural energy will replace all that is currently used and that is harmful to people. For the time being, human knowledge does not allow for its use.

These secrets will be revealed to people of goodwill, who will look into inspired scientific research.

That energy will be non-polluting and inexpensive. The power of money will not be satisfied by it; only the absolute necessity for the survival of the world will prevail.

That time is not yet upon us. The Earth will go through great mutations before getting there.

These prophecies do not concern you. You are undergoing the damaging effects of these insidious forms of pollution that will lead the world to its ruin, but you can neither stop time nor modify the system in place. So protect yourselves as best you can from harm and pray for your brothers and sisters of the future.

Babuji