(In meditation with A-M.)

We are guiding you on a way you do not know and where you take with you the souls that are ready.

Blessed are the selected beings of whom you are part; blessed are those who are in your wake.

A new kind of strength is given to you for what we expect from you. Redistribute it generously; it is inexhaustible.

Bless you in your endeavours. This is the gift we wanted to give you.

You are getting into another dimension of your existence, live it intensely.

Convey my blessings to the privileged ones who surround you.
