Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 2, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

You are beginning to foresee how and where these messages could be diffused without raising unpleasant comments. This country shows such scepticism about this kind of contact that it will be more difficult, in the near future, to publish them. Fortunately, the same is not true in all parts of the world. They will be able to nourish and enrich many souls in need.

Here, even those who believe in this form of communication will prefer to drink from other sources that can satisfy their intellect or simply their natural curiosity. We cannot do anything about it; this crop of messages is at their disposal, let us wait until minds are open.

In the West, although an increasingly large number of individuals are taking an interest in this literature – quite varied in terms of sincerity – taboos are still present in people's minds, and they limit this reading. Certain great inspired mediums have left, and will leave, a very enriching teaching worthy of faith, since it comes from the Source.

We can't force anything. The time will come when beings will be able to put things in perspective and benefit from what is given for their own good!
