My dear daughter, let the words that show the beauty of our relationship run across the paper. The introduction to this heart-to-heart, expressed that way, must not bother you.

Your societies perish from too large an outpouring of base and even morbid feelings, yet you are afraid to expose what is beautiful and pure, all that comes from the soul.

This kind of heart bond is exemplary. You saw it: Master Jesus, with a teaching different from ours, since it complies with what has been taught to the Christian masses for centuries, is not afraid to express, as does his medium, all the beauty of love emanating from the divine source.

Without this particular relationship our messages would not be what they are. Appreciated or not, they are imbued with this special vibration that does not belong to this world.

Delight in this state in which you immerse yourself during some of our contacts.

They have a different signature that hearts moved by this speech will be able to perceive.

One should not be afraid to love in that way and to show it. This kind of sublimated love is the most beautiful thing that can be manifested on this Earth.

Continue in that direction, my daughter, divest yourself more and more of the unnecessary and let your heart vibrate endlessly.
