Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 25, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

Why could you not catch us today? You just have to put yourself in resonance with the transmitting source, as you usually do. It would be preferable for you not to get involved in disturbing conversations just before our contact. The channel should not be cluttered, as you know. You know how to clean the mind; it is solely up to you to recover serenity.

Plunge within yourself and let yourself be carried towards luminous shores, this refuge where you can disregard turbulence and your heart can catch the pages written for you on the book of life.

That is where we leave these messages you receive outside of time and of measurements that are yours. We established this ritual at fixed hours, for most of our contacts, to make things easier for you. Existence for you all is punctuated by precise schedules, to which we adjust ourselves in certain circumstances.

The vibrations of thought fly at a speed none of you can really detect. As for imagining how our contacts occur, that remains beyond the grasp of most humans, hence the difficulty of getting them to accept this process.

May open minds take full advantage of what results from these many messages.
