Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, March 3, 2001 – 8:00 a.m.

Some messages lend themselves to this 'poeticized' presentation; it is a good idea and will be appreciated by spirits sensitive to this music of the heart. If this rather special series sees the light of day, it can be called: Songs of the Spirit.

Everything that is done to make these writings easier to read will be a good initiative, provided they are not distorted.

These messages represent a teaching, a code of life and a support. Through them, we want to strengthen you all from inside and provide you comfort so you can face the difficulties of your existence.

Nothing is useless; all that you experience bears fruit and provides you greater stature, if you know how to accept it in all circumstances.

Life is a school of wisdom. It can give the best results or fail, to a greater or lesser degree.

It rests with you to decide. You have to make choices aimed at building yourselves according to your aspirations.

Your destiny is set in advance, but it leaves you some latitude to evolve as it suits you.

May this reading help you in trying moments and enlighten you in all circumstances.

Babuji