Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 5, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

The Earth is nearing a worrying saturation point. See how, around you all, the whole of creation is suffering. Humans are the cause of it. They have been playing with fire for too long. The process is irreversible, they can no longer stop this crazy machine they've set in motion and which is turning against them.

They misunderstood progress with the notorious incompetence that characterizes them. Proceeding in this way, they were not really unaware of the consequences of their actions, but their pride was and remains stronger.

Now that this critical point has been reached, how will they find a way out of it? Poor innocents will pay the price. The collective consciousness is also that of each individual. This tragedy has no way out and its damaging effects are more and more obvious to you.

We do not want to be alarmist, simply to open your eyes while there is still time. Your means of action are very limited; you do not hold the reins of power. You can mainly pray that divine clemency takes pity on those sorcerer's apprentices who have endangered the entire planet.

May the time come for a transformed humanity; it is our wish and the goal of our action.
