Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, March 29, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

We greatly appreciate being able to express ourselves in this way to our son. Do you realize what it represents for us, even though this system seems quite natural to you now?

We are satisfied to see him slowing down his activity reasonably. He can reduce it for a while and then he will decide. The essential thing is that he does his work, and he can do that wherever he is. Physically, he is not a superman. He has great resistance, but it is normal for him to spare himself, for his own good and everyone else's.

The Mission needs him. In a sense, he is irreplaceable, hence our insistence on asking him to take it easy. We are very attentive to everything that concerns him. We follow his footsteps and assist him as much as possible.

Although he has made the right decision concerning Dubai, we reply to him through these lines that will comfort him. You can therefore convey them to him; they are not addressed to him personally, but as a first step, they answer his letter. We will come back to this in a few days when your health has improved.

May he feel through these lines all our attention and the love we have for him.
