Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, April 5, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

Our repetitions are necessary, they punctuate the path of each of you. These messages are spaced out over time, and they are meant to accompany your steps, which are also repeated. By following our path, you all belong to an elite that is trying to find its bearings beyond materialism. We accompany you in this approach; you need to be supported and encouraged.

We like to see you all active and determined to pursue your sadhana with heart. Even if you do not attend big seminars, your regularity and ardour are the mainstay of your work. In this area, discipline is profitable and love, moreover, embellishes everything. We follow your lives, which is that of a spiritual aspirant, and we guide you. We are very happy to do so and to see your progress.

Every life can be rich in its own way, but the means we give you saves you time. Isn't this what you all want? When a soul accesses a method like ours, it has come a sufficiently long way to benefit from it. Its deepest aspiration has led you to the Master and ensured that you were given appropriate teachings. Its level requires specific nourishment divested of superfluity.

Its simplicity is its strength and its richness. Your hearts yearned to devote to it; they are happy and fulfilled. It is up to all of you to distil from it the divine substance it needs to flourish.
