Thursday, April 12, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, turn towards more cheerful horizons. Everything evolves, everything changes, you know it. The French will end up seeing clearly and recovering their discernment. They are able to think by themselves, but a large mass of individuals are easily influenced and that cannot change.

Think of what has been said throughout these messages on the future of the Mission, and rejoice for this comforting future. Over centuries, see how ideas have evolved, martyrs have become executioners, the dominant dominated. It has always been thus.

As we have just said, it will be necessary to go all the way to the end of this cycle so that the order of things is restored and a better world is offered to the people of Earth.

You are passing through, my daughter, like all of you here below. You can all mark your time by lofty actions and thoughts; nothing and no one can stop you from doing so. What happens at the level of your hearts is exemplary and serves humanity. The grain of sand in the desert plays its role; it is a particle of the Divine and, as such, it is of great importance.

From the infinitely small to the infinitely large, everything is connected and contributes to the universal equilibrium.

Babuji