Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, November 20, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

If we encourage you to express what you feel during these mystical states you happen to experience during our contacts, it is partly for your own good and so that you can manage to overcome this reserve – sometimes taken for coldness and even arrogance – and partly it is to show what such surges of love can generate. You all need to let them grow within you and amplify to the extent that you become completely imbued with them. All the fibres of your body must be able to vibrate in unison and make you taste this subtle and unique joy.

Since you all want us to speak about Love, we will not hold back – it is the very essence of a spiritual life. Without it, what would become of you? Who would you be? Beings functioning only with the intellect, with a domineering mind and a powerful ego, some sort of human robots moving in their everyday lives with no joy, no real purpose apart from materiality. Love embellishes everything, magnifies everything. It is the supreme engine, which 'uplifts' you; isn't this the purpose of your life?
