Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, October 7, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

We are happy to see these messages infusing and permeating you all; this process takes place differently in each person.

They find their own access into the mysteries of your hearts. These small brooks meet and form a kind of river that grows in power, like the spring that makes its way underground before gushing forth into the open air. Interpret this formula as you will. You each have your own sensibility and you will come up with a personal image of it.

We can see how they make you all ponder, and it is a joy for us to see what you gain from them.

If it is said that 'a picture is worth a thousand words', it seems to us that all these words pieced together manage to touch your hearts, some of them having more impact than others according to your inner attitude.

Words have their own power; they can do harm, but they can also do a lot of good.

One must be careful about them and not use them indiscriminately, either in writing or in speaking. Mind well your language; the vibration of your speech is double-edged. Make sure you always use it aptly and wisely.
