Wednesday, May 30, 2001 – 10:00 a.m.

Don't fear to open your heart, very wide. The world needs love, you know this, my child. What better and what more can you do, now that you know how much this energy can change the world?

You have confirmation of this too: these vibrations form a lattice surrounding the Earth.

Nothing is lost, believe me; the heart's impulses represent a force in this world. May they spread in you as well as in each one of you.

Nurture thoughts of Love, all of you; cultivate them in your heart, as you would do for very rare and precious plants.

They cannot quit the world. They converge and form a powerful égrégore.

Become aware of this power that is yours. In this aspect also, future times will prove the soundness of our comments.

It will be used in a precise way and in proportions that you all cannot imagine, since its action is boundless.

By itself, this force can transform the world and bring about a revolution, in the best sense of the word.

We repeat ourselves: the world is moving towards new times, you all will have to adapt. We are preparing you through these messages. Our way is helping you greatly in this respect; you are in this frame of mind. Be confident and blessed.

Babuji