Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, June 6, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Without an incarnate Master having a certain spiritual dimension, you cannot reach high levels.

It is the combination of these various aspects already mentioned that forms a whole.

It is the Master who guides you all, who relieves you of your samskaras and, in the end, gets you through the barrier of fire.

At that stage, nothing can be done without a guide of this stature.

We have already elaborated on these principles in our books.

Though you may have read them, perhaps you were not ready to understand this, not imagining that you would ever reach this crucial point one day.

Sahaj Marg is not an amusement for friendly abhyasis.

It is for some, but we are aiming much higher for most of you.

We have told you often enough, humanity will be saved only by spirituality.

Therefore, unite yourselves; be among those combatants who work behind the scenes, not only for their own advancement, but for the good of all.

You can move things forward by helping us. Let faith grow in you, your desire to act must materialize in a sustained action, in all directions.

Take one step, the Master will see that you take the next.

Step by step, the magic line will be crossed.

You will be amazed, happy, in an indescribable way.

We would like to see you all in this frame of mind.

Through this dream, we see the realization of our objectives.

The action of my son, your Master, is powerful. We join our forces, our means at various levels, so that you all may feel, according to your receptivity, this great current of divine energy permeate you completely.

May your enthusiasm unite with ours for the achievement of this magnificent project, and may it give you wings.

May you hear us, our blessings are upon you.
