Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, July 10, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

The more you advance, the more you realize that humans are fickle. You were less affected in the past because you were less dependent on others.

Human beings are increasingly unstable, with this perturbing life you are all leading – generally to a lesser degree among abhyasis, but the current context unsettles even the best-balanced ones.

It is insidious, it happens without your knowledge. There is so much information reaching you about every country, about serious issues; added to your own worries, it's a lot to bear.

Allow yourselves periods of rest, far from all this din, moments of calm, of tranquillity, at home, out of reach of what can assault you. It is necessary for your blooming.

Make sure to relax your body and mind, free them from their tensions. Some among you let their health be undermined, for want of knowing how to unwind.

Do not misuse your Earthly vehicle. It cannot be renewed at will; you must spare it.

Favour as much as possible your spiritual life – the only way out of your problems, and what gives its whole raison d'être to your incarnation on this Earth; never neglect it.

Be attentive to all these aspects we've just mentioned.

May this meeting at the ashram strengthen the ties between you all and prompt you to make it live and vibrate more intensely.

Become aware of the importance of this place, highly charged with so many untapped possibilities.

It is also a place for gatherings and exchanges. Do not forget it.

Open your eyes and act.
