Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, March 18, 2016 – 10:00 a.m.

Time passes and it accumulates life experiences, adding to the journey of every human being. The laws are the same for everyone; king or beggar, the roles follow one another, providing each person with what is suitable according to the laws of evolution.

Managing to refine oneself enough to reach the satisfactory level of consciousness allows afterwards for a very beautiful advancement. Hence the ceaseless action of the Masters in carrying out this great collective and human work, where these Beings, incarnate or not, work for this very noble goal, fully supported by the divine Power.

The teachings of Sahaj Marg may seem simple, but they operate appropriately wherever necessary, and especially according to the abhyasi's inner tendencies and aptitudes.

Each person receives according to their inner call, their faith and the gains previously made. From one incarnation to another, this inner call is strengthened, while adapting accordingly, when necessary for a more specific advancement.

Following a spiritual path, active in its effects, allows one to save valuable time. Our continual repetition has no other purpose than to activate the evolutionary process of each one.

Sometimes little is needed to bring awareness of a reality that has previously been ignored, for multiple reasons. Then the path of life becomes more productive, since this notion of reincarnation becomes clearer, thus reinforcing the motivation of the aspirant. Time is precious for all; moving ahead, seeing only the good and that which is constructive, is very gratifying. We can only rejoice over the progress of our abhyasis.

Special blessings to all.
