Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 1, 2000 – 10:00 a.m.

To achieve perfection, the greatest humility is required. It is true humility, without the slightest failing. This is what differentiates high level Masters from the common run of people.

Their progress must be flawless, which may seem exaggerated to people, all these subtleties being beyond your understanding. The way ahead is full of obstacles, but they are not insurmountable. One has to know what they are exposed to, and face up to things without complacency.

Don't let this programme frighten you. Nothing is asked of all of you that is beyond your strength, but you should know that the struggle is endless.

When you are determined to make suitable efforts to go further, you will have taken a big step.

Complete acceptance is critical; you all cannot be helped without it. Advancing towards realization is more difficult than it seems. You did not consider it this way, just know that grace comes to encourage your slightest efforts, and nobody is expected to do the impossible.
